

DIC and Earthrise

Global Leaders

of Spirulina

DIC started the world's first industrial production of Spirulina more than 30 years ago. Today DIC operates two sophisticated Spirulina farms, one in California USA, and the other in Hainan China, with production capacity of about 900 tons per annum which is the largest in the world.

Due to its consistent quality, inherent safety and its high content of several nutrients like phycocyanin, beta-carotene etc, DIC Spirulina has obtained an excellent reputation. DIC Spirulina products are supplied through DIC's global sales network.

- Ideal location and climate
- Unparalleled production process
- Relentless quality control and safety assurance
- Superior product nutrition & consistency
- Highest industry certifications
- Over 30 years commitment & integrity
